To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing in my capacity as Coordinator of the Postgraduate Program of the School of Medicine, Universidade de Brasília (UnB), to formally confirm the funding status of Dr. Rafael de Negreiros Botan in relation to the above-referenced manuscript.

I hereby certify that:

1. Dr. Rafael de Negreiros Botan is currently enrolled as a doctoral candidate (doutorando) in the Postgraduate Program of the School of Medicine, Universidade de Brasília (UnB).
2. The research presented in the manuscript "Corepam: a 24-gene PAM50-derived expression score with cross-platform external validation for breast cancer prognosis" was conducted without any external research grant, institutional research funding, industry sponsorship, or dedicated publication budget.

3. Neither Dr. Botan nor this institution has any allocated funds — departmental, programmatic, or grant-based — available to cover article processing charges (APCs) for this manuscript.
4. No open-access publication fund, library agreement, or transformative/read-and-publish agreement covering Breast Cancer Research is available to the author through this institution.
5. I am not an author or co-author of the manuscript referenced above, and I have no conflict of interest in providing this statement.

Given the absence of any source of funding to cover the APC, I respectfully support Dr. Botan's request for an additional discount or full waiver, so that this accepted manuscript on breast cancer — a topic of significant clinical and public-health relevance — can be made openly accessible.

Should you require any additional information or verification, please do not hesitate to contact me at the details below.

Sincerely,
